

TRANSPARENCY INTERNATIONAL | USA

Communications Director – Washington, DC

Immediate opening for experienced, entrepreneurial marketing and media specialist to promote transparency and anti-corruption agenda. Reports to the President. Responsibilities include: press releases and relationships, op-eds, newsletters and annual reports, marketing materials, website and social media.

The position requires a minimum five years demonstrated experience and excellent writing skills. Fast-paced and lean organization requires flexibility, independence and collegiality.

Send cover letter, resume, references, one-page writing sample and salary history to administration@transparency-usa.org.

TI-USA is the US chapter of TI, the global network seeking to curb corruption as an impediment to effective development and business.